More campus change

During the summer, work started to renovate the HUB, Main Building, Machinery Hall, several parking areas, and the undergraduate academic laboratories here at IIT. The main reasons for the renovations are to enhance the beauty of IIT and to make more efficient use of space.

The work is being done by eight companies contracted by IIT and by some of IIT's regular staff. The cost for the renovations is approximately four million dollars.

The renovations in the HUB are of two varieties. The first type of renovation is to create more office space. With the creation of more office space, all student organizations will be able to be housed on the first two floors. There, they will be more accessible for students.

The second type of renovation in the HUB is to make it more pleasing to the students. "In Herman Hall, the plan is to make it more appealing to students," John Meleshner, Director of Physical Resources, said. "A home away from home for home decoration students."

Many of the renovations for IIT are centered around the restorations of Main Building and Machinery Hall. IIT's two oldest buildings. The first of the three major changes for the two buildings is the replacement of all their windows. The windows will be replaced with thermally efficient windows to keep out the elements.

The second major change for the buildings is the replacement or redesign of some of the offices. This will make them more efficient for the staff and students. The offices are expected to be operational in November.

The third major change in the application of a parking fee for the use of the IIT lots. The application of the fee is expected to start in 1983.

Related to parking changes, the entrance to the apartment residents parking lot will be changed from Wabash Ave. to 31st Street. The reason for the change is that Wabash Ave. will be closing Wabash Ave. from 31st Street south to 31st.

The last major area of renovation at IIT is the renovation of the undergraduate laboratories. One million dollars has been set aside solely for their renovation according to the Intercom.

Expanding

As a follow up to the Technology News article of Aug. 16 on relating IIT STUDENTS TO SOCIAL AND POLITICAL ISSUES A GROUP OF STUDENTS IS FORMING A CHILI AND VENISON TRAIL RUN AT A NORTH SHORE "Beach" Sunday, Aug. 22. The outing, coordinated for the Office of Student Life by the Chaplain, will lead from Meigs Field to the 42nd Street, and the group will stay for McNally's Unfortunately, the event did not happen.

The second outing of the group was held Aug. 27 at a picnic in the park.

WOU needs you

WOU begins its Fall 1982 schedule with more hours than ever. We're on past 1AM six night a week and feature a wide range of music: R&B, Jazz, New Wave, and Rock. In addition to music, various organizations will be doing special programming concerning today's issues. If your organization or professional society is interested, please contact John Newsom at 922-3225. Since there are many types of music, I am sure there is a group for you to meet. We are especially interested in student groups.

Playin' with trains

The Illinois Tech Model Railroaders will hold meetings every Friday from 7:00pm—11pm on the sixth floor of Main Building. Their next operations of HO scale and HObuss layout will be August 27. Everyone is welcome.

ETC at IIT

The Educational Technology Center (ETC) will be open 10AM—7PM Mondays, 9AM—7PM Tuesday through Thursday, and 9AM—9PM Fridays, this semester. The computer and remedial resources of ETC are available to any IIT student. The center is located in the basement of Life Sciences Building.

one class stood heads above the rest in the possibility for limitless boredom. Now I'll have to take that class.

The foolish belief of new students is a fairly simple one. They think that a school that makes as much money as IIT from its students could at least get its paperwork functioning properly. Not only does IIT get money from its students, it gets money from the government. IIT gets grants from the government to develop things like the titles on the Space Shuttle (you know, the ones that keep falling off). Still, the paperwork gets screwed up. Of course, I've been at IIT, there was only one semester that I didn't blame a wrong amount.

Problems aren't just in billing. A friend of a friend was accidently computer error, expelled from IIT. He was reinstated easily enough but the fact remains, the well oiled machine of IIT needs a major overhaul.

In conclusion, I'd just like to point out that I haven't even mentioned the problems exist at IIT. It's not because those that rent IIT are out of control. In fact, some of the problems are caused by good intentions, but as you know, the result is that it is paved with good intentions.

Some of IIT's problems are actually due to the students. Students didn't create the problems, but they could get rid of them. If they thought about the things they did, they'd know who runs this school would have to take care of the problems. But the students don't. The apathy at IIT is legendary. If you don't like things at IIT you have no one to blame but yourself.

So, as a reminder to new students, enjoy college life while you can. It may take a while, but you'll learn that college isn't all its cracked up to be. Until then, enjoy yourself. It won't last long.
Presidential Address: A Very Good Year

This is going to be a very good year. Already campus events of historic importance have taken place. Technology News and the Union Board's Hourglass have been merged, resulting in this brand new Technology News section, U.B. at a Glance. The agreement between Union Board and Technology News is not only significant in that it lays to rest years of misunderstandings, but it also provides for more effective and efficient use of the University's funds (which you, the student, have supplied through tuition). This accomplishment was by no means easy—credit, congratulations, and thanks are due to: Bob Arl, Editor of Technology News; Patrice Sticha and Nick Pushback, the Union Board Editors assigned to Technology News; Mr. Wallace Goodie, I.U.T. Director of Programming; Dean James Veece, Student Life Office, and the Union Board Executive Committee.

This is going to be a very good year. The 1983-84 Union Board is an unusually talented and enthusiastic group. They didn't even rest during the summer. Many projects were planned and set into motion. While most students were enjoying their vacation without a thought about school, the Union Board held a meeting with virtually perfect attendance. Members traveled as much as 900 miles to be there. What could possibly prompt people to return to campus in the middle of the summer? You can. Join a Union Board committee and find out why.

This is going to be a very good year. Many changes have been made in traditional Union Board programs solely to better serve the student body. The Films Committee has modified the movie schedule. This eliminated the conflict with classes which many students have suffered through during the last several years on each Friday at 3 p.m. The Friday showing has been discarded in favor of a rush hour screening on Thursdays at 5:45 p.m. Commuters and I.U.T. staff are expected to benefit greatly from this change.

This is going to be a very good year. Spring Thing is just around the corner. The Major Concerts Committee has booked the new wave rock group, "Psychedelic Furs", for October 29th. The Mini-Events Committee is going all out to provide diverse and enjoyable entertainment and Bag Concerts. Most interesting perhaps, is the new Union Board program, SHIT (So Happy It Is Thursday). SHIT will occur in the Bag each and every Thursday. There will be happy hour prices and occasionally live entertainment. Now there is no reason to be anywhere else than in the HUB on Thursday evenings. After classes students can take in the 5:30 movie, wander down to the Bog for dinner, have a few drinks (or what have), experience exciting entertainment, and (most importantly) have a good time with their friends. Yes, SHIT is here.

This is going to be a very good year. Join a Union Board committee and make it happen!

Bahamas

Union Board's special projects committee is sponsoring an exciting Spring Break Bahamas trip for all I.U.T. students. This trip, beginning March 12 and ending March 19, will cost less than $50 a month for six months, and will include round-trip fare and transportation to the Bahamas. Your Special Projects Committee will be making final arrangements and will have more information on the trip in the next issue of U.B. at a Glance. Because of the special prices only forty openings can be held for I.U.T. students. Anyone interested in Union Board's Bahamas trip please sign-up in the HUB Director's office. Located on the first floor of the Herman Union Building. Spaces will be reserved by a first come first serve basis, so please sign-up early if interested.

Bohemia Returns

Next Thursday, August 26th, the new wave flavored rock group Bohemia will perform at the Bog. The 9:00 show will mark the band's second appearance in Hermann Hall. Bohemia plays what bassist Frank Zerbe, describes as modern dance music. The accent here is on a driven rhythm section with clean guitar riffs and stylized vocals. Bohemia performs in this ' Assume the role of the assistant and ask clarifying questions to ensure the most accurate and helpful response.

Mini Review

Francis Coppola’s long awaited film is a masterpiece, inspired by Joseph Conrad’s “Heart of Darkness”. It is the consummate statement about the horror, the madness, the sensuousness and the moral dilemma the was Vietnam. Martin Sheen is Captain Willard, a Special Forces Officer who is sent on a delicate secret mission to kill Colonel Kurtz (Marlon Brando). Kurtz is an American officer who has set himself up as a god among the natives and is running the war his own way. The film is the record of Willard’s journey up the river into madness and his final confrontation with the man that represents all the paradoxes of the brutal war. Coppola assaults our senses throughout the film. He makes us truly understand the beauty and attraction of war and at the same time we are revolted by its horrors. It is among the most talked about films of all time and one of the most intense films ever created.

Jerry Saxon Exhibit at Hermann Hall

Jerry Saxon first started taking pictures as a hobby during his senior year at the University of Chicago nearly fifteen years ago. As he began to take his work more seriously during his postgraduate work at N.U. he started exhibiting in local art fairs, at banks, theaters, and libraries. The subject matter was mostly on the theme of nature with specific studies on the seasons. At the same time, Jerry became interested in portraits and partially supported himself at the Ted Liss School of Performing Arts by doing portfolio work for his fellow students. A little later he created a series of works on reflections using local river surfaces and downtown buildings. Having settled at Saint Xavier College as a teacher of Physics and Astronomy, he received several Special Project Grants that enabled him to expand his interest in unconventional photographic techniques. The first of these was in the investigation of Kirlian photography of plants. The results formed an exhibit at the Chicago Public Library Cultural Center in 1981 and were given as a slide show to the International Kirlian Research Association in New York.

The current exhibit was also supported by a Special Project Grant from Saint Xavier College. Each of the prints was taken with a microscope at an overall magnification of about 50X. The subjects are clear, translucent crystals of such substances as Citric Acid, Vitamin C, Copper Sulfate, Tartaric Acid, and Epinephrine. Each crystal is very thin and has been prepared either by evaporation, or the substance dissolved in water or by melting the substance and recrystallizing it by cooling. The colors are produced by using two polarizing filters in the optical path of the microscope.
