Mehlenbacher interviewed

By Aquitin Gomez

"We do not want to deprive anyone," spoke Mr. Mehlenbacher, director of the Department of Physical Resources at a recent interview with Tech News. "The academic buildings have always been closed at night, except for Stout and Crown Hall."

This year, however building lights will be turned off and Crown Hall will be added to the list of nightly backups. "We want to discourage students from working alone at night. It is dangerous for a student working alone at night as he may have an accident out of view of the stationed security cameras. Also, not having students in the buildings at night will enhance the security of the school property. And finally, having the lights off at night will save the already $200,000 over budget electric bill due to the cooling of the buildings during the unseasonable hot months of August and September. "This is a positive step to minimize a ration increase (for next year") added the director.

He then went on to explain that since peace along with keys will be met at the discretion of department chairmen (with the approval of the Department of Physical Resources). Also, he made it clear that groups or classes needing the buildings during off hours could put requests in at the Department.

Faculty and students are invited to voice their views on this matter to Mr. Mehlenbacher.

Conversations with Trustees go on

The series of informal Trustee conversations with students began the semester on September 4th with a visit from Robert Galvins, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. Mr. Galvins is one of the most successful U.S. companies in competition in the international market, and Mr. Galvins serves as chief advisor to the United States government on trade competition with Japan. He explained Motorola's participation strategy which creates and rewards teams which come up with new ideas either of products or processes which improve the company's position in the market. On a more personal note, Mr. Galvins discussed the importance of changing corporate objectives to meet new market situations and said that this year his company will produce the last of its line of car radios, the production team with which his father started Motorola.

On September 26, Jerome Gure, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Harters, formerly called Hart, Schaffer and Hart, visited the campus to meet with students. Mr. Gure reported that his company had not suffered through the current recession and has in fact increased both its sales and its profits for each of the past eight years. Harters is a diversified company in the clothing field which produces, among other things, Hart, Schaeffer and Marx clothing for men. It also produces a number of other lines of clothing including the very stylish Charles A Stevens clothing for women. In addition, the company owns and operates a number of retail stores such as Copper and Cider and Baskin. Mr. Gure explained the company's production and marketing strategy and discussed its extensive use of computerization in corporate management.

Benett Archambault, Chairman of the Board and President of the Stuart-Warner Corporation, and John Holohied, Jr., Senior Partner in the architectural firm of Holohied & Root, both visited the campus on September 29. Mr. Holohied met with the students at a "brown bag" luncheon gathering at noon at Crown Hall. Mr. Archambault met with students in the regular "Conversations" series at 4:00 p.m. in the HUB.

While John Holohied was "born to architecture" in the sense of being the son of a distinguished architect, he came to his profession only rather slowly and told about his interest in stage set design, began in his years at Harvard College and continuing on to his present out-of-office activities today. He also recounted some of his adventures as an "architect-engineer" in the Second World War. He explained the structure and activities of Holohied and Root and his own current role in the church.

News from the Cafeteria

By Suzanne Snyder

The proposed changes to ATS constitution

In an effort to make the Association of Tech Students the organization that represents the students of IIT, truly represent all the students on campus, the rules committee has proposed on a number of changes in the A.T.S. Constitution. These changes will be brought up for student vote on Wednesday and Thursday, October 26th and 27th. Voting will take place in the HUB and the Commons daily from Noon to 2:00 pm. All graduate and undergraduate students, who are enrolled in 10 or more credit hours or who participate in the cooperative education program, are eligible to vote. By taking the time to review and vote on these changes, students can express their opinions on the following proposed changes.

1) The first proposed change concerns clarification of the filling of vacancies in the treasurer’s office. It is presently implied that the assistant treasurer automatically becomes treasurer after two months. What is to be clarified is that this change shall occur only if the treasurer has vacated the office after the first of two months.

2) The position of class representative was originally created so that a student from each year (freshmen, sophomore, etc.) could be appointed to various committees. It is proposed that this distinction be dropped as being non-essential for filling committee positions.

3) Presently there is no provision for deciding if a proposal should be acted on or passed by the assembly. To solve this it is proposed that a simple majority sufficient to pass any proposal brought before the assembly.

4) In order for A.T.S. to represent more students through all organizations on campus, each organization should send a representative to the A.T.S. assembly to make this more possible.

It is proposed that as part of the recognition process each organization provide a representative for the A.T.S. assembly. This representative is subject to the rules governing assemblymen, which include attendance at meetings and filing a petition signed by 35 students. Failure to attend meetings would be basis for the consideration of withdrawal of the organization’s recognition.

Please consider each of these proposed changes and voice your opinion on October 26th and 27th.

More of all that jazz

IIT Jazz Band is looking for new members. Requirements are the ability to play a horn (sax, trumpet, trombone) or rhythm instrument (guitar, bass, piano, drums), and to read music well.

The band plays concerts, gives clinics and rehearses every week. It is an excellent outlet for those interested in jazz.

A new Jazz Band is forming now, so positions are still available. Interested persons should contact the Director, Nari Dunlop, at 779-5632 or leave a message in the DOSL office.

Summer jobs

Students who are interested in obtaining information on career-related summer employment are encouraged to register with the Placement Office—Farr Hall, Room 406. This year Dr. Lester Morrow, the Assistant Director of Placement, will be coordinating the summer employment and internship programs. Because employers will begin interviews for summer/position the week of October 10th Dr. Morrow is encouraging students to register as early as possible.

More summer jobs

The Weyerhaeuser Company of Tacoma, Washington, will host an employment information night on Thursday, October 13 from 5:00 to 7:00 pm in Rooms 301 and 302 of the HUB Mezzanine. Company representatives will offer information on the company’s Summer and Professional Internship Programs. Wine and Cheese will be served.

Advice for freshmen

ATTENTION FRESHMEN: By this point in the semester all freshmen should have received a letter from their Freshman Advisor. If you have not received a letter, or if you have ignored the letter you will receive—believe me, no leapfrogging this step. So, talk to your advisor, and MAKE AN APPOINTMENT! These appointments are not time consuming and are important to your successful completion of the freshman year. Don’t delay, schedule one today. Remember, 851 Farr Hall, 567-3395.

A place for X-mas

International Students: What do you plan to do over the Christmas vacation period? Would you like to spend two weeks with an American family? Most family placements are available in over 50 locations in the United States through a program called Christmas International House. The only cost to the student is his transportation to his host family site; room and board are free. For more information and application forms, contact the International Office, Room 103 Farr Hall as soon as possible. Don’t delay, the sites with warm weather fill up fast.

Intramural V-ball

Sign up for Volleyball October 17-20. Play begins October 24. Choose Tuesday or Thursday 12-2 leagues.

Brief of space

A “space briefing” featuring many prominent members of America’s space-age program will be held in the Museum of Science and Industry’s Auditorium from 2 to 4 pm on Wednesday, October 30th, in connection with the premiere of the day’s “The Right Stuff” as a benefit for the Museum and the American Film Institute.

The “space meeting” is being presented at the Museum under the auspices of NASA and the National Space Institute. Discussions are expected to deal with space exploration, uses of space, and the impact of space exploration in our lives.

Participants will include Col. Buzz Aldrin of Gemini 12 and Apollo II; Scott Carpenter of Mercury 7; Dr. Philip K. Chapman, non-flight physician; Col. L. Gordon (Gordo) Cooper, Mercury 7 and Gemini 5; Dr. Edward G. Gibson, Skylab 4; Dr. John A. Llewellyn, non-flight chemical engineer; Dr. Brian T. O’Leary, non-flight physicist; Deland R. “Dale” Skymon, Mercury 7, Lt. Gen. Thomas P. Stafford, Gemini 6 and 8, Apollo 15, and ASTP; and others to be named.

Admission to the “space briefing” is free; however, reservations are required and can be made either at the Museum or by calling 684-8444, Ext. 204. Requests for tickets to the film’s premiere are also being handled at that number.

Among the celebrities expected to attend the premiere showing of “The Right Stuff” at the Esquire Theater that day starting at 5:30 pm, are: Cheston Heston, Paul Newman, and Gen. Chuck Yeager. Following the presentation of the film, guests will attend a buffet supper at the Drake Hotel’s Gold Coast Room starting at 8:45 pm.

falling all of his courses, although it may certainly help boost the G.P.A. of a student who may have had trouble with one or two of his courses.

A suggestion that would equal averaging both the original and the regular grade into the G.P.A. was also made since both grades appear on the transcript anyway.

No definite solutions were reached and the matter will be further discussed at the next meeting. Faculty members expressed their interest in students’ opinions regarding this proposal and Dean Filler adjourned the meeting with the suggestion that students get together and discuss the matter.

Non-Students who wish to voice their opinions on this subject (everyone should think this over carefully since it may affect them in the future) is encouraged to attend the ATIS meeting on Tuesday, October 18th, at 12:20, in the HUB Mezzanine.

Trustee conversations

Mr. Archambault, who is one of the most senior and loyal of the IIT Trustees, is years of service, explained the world-wide, diversified production activities of Stewart-Warner. He commented on the problems of investment and manufacturing in other countries, the marketing of industrial (rather than consumer) items, and the kind of management necessary to hold together such a corporation. Like other of the Trustees, he told of his own career path and described some of the joys of corporate responsibility.

Walther Cherry, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Cherry Electric Products Corporation, visited with students on October 5 and told how he started his company in the basement of his garage with $750 borrowed from his father. (This past year, the Cherry Corporation did over $100,000,000 worth of business.) Mr. Cherry's company now operates in a number of countries. While its products are diversified within the electrical field, they are primarily paths such as switches (the first time of production ever made by other manufacturers). The company thrives by more efficient manufacturing procedures than those used by its competitors. Mr. Cherry employs a number of incentive techniques to keep the involvement of his employees and their production high. He also told how he became interested in serving as a Trustee of IIT. He said that he no longer had much involvement with his own alma mater but was much impressed by a presentation by Dr. Martin about IIT V. His developing interest in Dr. Martin and in IIT has now led him to the position of Vice President for Development of the Board of Trustees.

Developer Charles Shaw, President of the Charles H. Shaw Company, met at the "brown bag" with students in Crown Hall on October 6. Mr. Shaw, like Mr. Cherry, is very much a "self-made" man and remains very much the independent entrepreneur. Locally, perhaps his most notable project was Lake Point Tower. He is now involved with a $80,000,000 project to rebuild the Conrad Hilton Hotel on Michigan Avenue. One of his most fascinating projects was the construction of a luxury apartment in the air rights above the Museum of Modern Art in New York, a task which required the negotiation of state and municipal laws as well as the assembling of funds and talents. Mr. Shaw, who is also the person originally chosen for the "North Loop" project, had interesting comments on the varied paths of the developer.

On October 8, Raymond Tower, President and Chief Operating Officer of the FMC Corporation, met with students in the HUB. FMC started as a company involved in making food processing equipment. The combination of a brilliant engineer and a dynamic corporate executive won for the company the task of making military landing crafts during World War II, and thereafter the company continued to expand and diversify until it stands approximately $85 in the Fortune 500, with sales on the order of $3.5 billion. FMC also is, in Mr. Tower's words, a "multinational conglomerate." He explained the relationship between the management of the different divisions and the central corporate management and gave some of the general guidelines which are used in evaluating the various companies which make up FMC, including guidelines for what to hold and what to acquire. Currently the corporation is one of the major producers of military transport. Mr. Tower discussed some of the areas in which government purchasing is most reasonably directed to one corporation and the various kinds of contractual relations which regulate such contracts and the kinds of projects which are better put out to competitive bidding.

Upcoming meetings with Trustees will be on October 28, meeting at 4 p.m in the Hermann Lounge of the HUB with Esther Rothstein, Senior Partner of the law firm of McCarthy & Levin, at IIT alumni as well as Trustee, and a person very active in civic and legal affairs.

On October 20, IEEE and the Student Life Office are jointly sponsoring a meeting with David Morrison, President of IITRI, at the IITRI Tower. Activities for November include a November 3 meeting with Gordon Lehman, Vice President of AMSTED Industries Incorporated, a November 9 meeting with F. J. Welsch, Chairman of the Inland Steel Company, and a November 17 meeting with William Lane III, Chairman and President of Lane Industries Incorporated which involves, among other things, the Lake Banks in the Chicago area. Also tentatively planned is a meeting co-sponsored by Eta Kappa Nu with Peter B. Englund, Vice President of General Motors and General Manager of the Electro-Motive Division at the Electro-Motive Plant in LaGrange.

The Trustee Conferences and visits provide a unique opportunity for IIT students to meet with top corporate and civic executives in an informal small-group setting where questions are easily asked and answers are extremely candid. For further information, contact the Student Life Office in the HUB or simply stop by the Conferences held in the Hermann Lounge in the southeast corner of the HUB on the day and time in question. Visits to two corporate headquarters, however, require signing up in advance with the co-sponsoring student organization.

Listen to WOUI live

WOUI is taking applications for members of its Executive Management Board. Members of the Board are responsible for the daily operations of the station, and represent WOUI at campus meetings and events. Positions include: President, Finance Manager, Music Manager, News Manager, and Production Manager. Application forms are available on the radio. All applicants must be WOUI staff members, and full-time IIT students. Deadline: November 4th at Noon.

The next WOUI staff meeting will be Sunday, October 23, at 7 p.m., on the HUB mezzanine.

The power of personal computers here at IIT

By Carolyn M. Banch

For a very "personal" and "free-of-charge" look at personal computers, join the members of IIT's Young Alumni Council this Saturday, October 22nd from 10am to 3pm in the Auditorium of Hermann Hall for "The Power of Personal Computers." Saturday's seminar will be presented by Dr. Rollin Dix, IIT Associate Dean of Computer Studies, Dr. John Kellogg, IIT Associate Professor of METM, and Dr. Sheldon Montovone, also an IIT Associate Professor of METM. All attendees are encouraged to attend both halves of the seminar. The seminar will begin at 10 a.m. with "The Rise of the Personal Computer." It is hoped that IIT students and alumni will attend this seminar and learn to better understand the functionality of personal computers and how they can enhance the productivity of individuals both in and out of the classroom. The second half of the seminar will begin at 1:30 p.m. with "The Power of Personal Computers: Software." At this session, Dr. Dix and Dr. Montovone will demonstrate a variety of software packages which are available for personal computers. Students interested in learning how to use personal computers should attend both halves of this seminar.

Libyan students arrested

BUNNELL, FL (CP)--Three Libyan students at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University are awaiting a hearing on charges they violated new immigration rules which restrict them from enrolling in aviation and nuclear power courses at American schools.

The three students were arrested in early August, along with six other Libyan natives who live in Florida, as part of the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service's (INS) efforts to enforce the new restrictions.

The INS has implemented the restrictions because Libyan students were learning nuclear engineering and aviation skills at American schools, and could later use those skills to support Libya's military ambitions.

The Reagan administration has long opposed the foreign policies of Khadafi's troops, which are currently pressing an invasion of its neighbor, Chad.

"They (the students) had been ordered back in March (1983) that they could no longer enroll in nuclear or aviation courses," says INS spokesman Vern Jervis. "The students were arrested, given the option to voluntarily leave the country or face a hearing on the charges."

The three Embry-Riddle students were the only Libyan students officially enrolled in a U.S. university, according to Holly Vath, editor of The Avion, the school's student newspaper.

Two of the other students were nearby residents who had stopped attending classes at the school, and then violated their status as visiting students.

The remaining four Libyans were taking courses at private flight schools in the area, Vath says.

All nine students are scheduled to attend a hearing before immigration officials sometime in mid-October, and could face sentences ranging from probation to forced deportation, Jervis reports.

Jervis says that there have been no other arrests of Libyan students at American schools.

There are around 3000 Libyans currently studying here, according to the Institute for International Education.

Jervis warns there could be more arrests, however. "The new law is being enforced, and will continue to be enforced against anyone who is out of status."

Rockin’ the Bog

Come down on the Bog Thursday, October 20th, for the second of this semester’s Union Board Mini-Concerts, as we welcome Jutz Nutz.

These heavy metal masters have been featured in the Tribune Plaza and other select spots in the Chi-town circuit. Jutz Nutz takes the music of such groups as Jimi Hendrix and Blue Oyster Cult, along with their own original style, and combines it all into a pulsating brand of rock that is sure to please.

This is Jutz Nutz first return engagement to the Bog. Their original show was well received, so let’s give them another appreciative crowd that is ready to party.

Be sure to come on down to the Bog October 20th at 9:00, and for a $2 dollar cover charge, get ready for a night of rockin’ and partying with Jutz Nutz.

Wizards

It will be appearing in the McCormick Auditorium located in Hermann Hall and will be shown on Thursday, October 20 at 5:15 p.m. and Saturday, October 21, at 7:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

The cost to you is a mere $2.00.

"The Bog’s in Showbiz"

Those of you who have been studying for midterms lately or for some reason do not know where the Bog is, missed two great shows past week. Appearing on the Bog (which is turning into a regular hotbed for Chicago entertainment), last Thursday, Oct. 6, was local comedian Tim Cavagnagh and Monday, Oct. 10, the Brisbane and Blues band Jody No and the Sho Nuff band.

Tim Cavagnagh’s free performance was sponsored by the Union Board, and after a rough start proved to be an enjoyable evening for all. Tim’s first set began at a little after 9:00 competing for an audience with the first set, which was being shown in the basement of the HUB on a large screen. Since the first set was winning, the group in the Bog was understandably rowdy, and this, accompanied by sound problems, made it difficult for Tim’s takes to be effective. The moment he began playing his notorious ‘take-off’ with the help of his acoustic guitar the momentum turned in his favor. His second set, “Have her candies,” taken of Steve Miller’s ‘Brickyard’, captured the attention of even the most distracted listener with the disgusting taste of the IIT students are so fond. Tim ended his first set around 11:00 o’clock singing with the audience and jokes with the band members on a one-to-one basis. He began his second set twenty minutes later to a more subdued crowd taking the Bog to new hilarious heights. His timing and comebacks were perfect, the simplicity of his comedy, and the amount of audience participation he received was amazing. Everyone, Tim Cavagnagh was the first comedian in the Bog this year, and his performance is surely tough to beat.

Monday night was the second in the Bog’s Blue Monday series. Although the crowd wasn’t as large as the one at the first Blue Monday, the band was equally as good, if not better. July No is a harmonica player and his Sho Nuff band was not a typical band and was lacking the usual musical performance. Each member of the band had an opportunity to show his expertise doing solos, including the bass player who was not a regular member of the band. The saxophonist blew his horn with the authority of a true musician, and the guitarist, maintaining a low profile, brought in riffs and melodies which his guitar took the lead. The piano-organ player was particularly impressive singing old favorites and originals with a style all his own. After three sets the band was cleared into a final encore number, leaving everyone in the Bog satisfied that they got their one dollar admission’s worth. If you wanted to see them again, or if you weren’t there Monday, for the first time, then we do hope you made their show at that on Friday, Oct. 14, 1983.

Jazz It Up

The IIT Jazz Bands are looking for new members. Requirements are the ability to play a horn (sax, trombone, trumpet) or rhythm instrument (guitar, bass, piano, drums), and to read music well.

The bands play concerts, give clinics, and rehearse every week. It is an excellent outlet for those interested in jazz.

A new Jazz Band is forming now, so positions are still available. Interested persons should contact the Director, Noel Dunlap, at 709-3059 or leave a message in the Don’s Office.

Women's volleyball wins 2nd tourney

The IIT Women's Volleyball Team won its second tournament in a row, taking the Trinity Christian Invitational on Saturday, October 8th. The Hawks split a pair of games with Blackburn College, and then beat Moody Bible Institute, Trinity Christian, and Rockford College to win the tournament. For IIT, this was an especially important win since Trinity Christian takes first place in the IIT tournament. The Hawks played at their best against Trinity Christian, winning 15-8, 15-2. Joan Benes was the leader in kills in this match with 16. The final match against Rockford was an anticlimax as it was evident that the Hawks skills were much better than Rockford's. Coach Chris Meyer used all 12 players in this match, and all contributed to the victory. Linda O'Connell, Ann Rockley, Lorrene Makar, Kelly Cady, Ruth Zeldenrust, Mary Keough, Marie Duckmann, Joan Benes, Susan Topolski, Kim Murphy, Jennifer Glask, and Maria Puig all shared in the win, and Benes was named to the all-tournament team.

Tuesday, October 11, the Hawks defeated Purdue-Calumet University. The Hawks won the first game 15-6 after scoring a 15-1 lead, the second game was much different, as the Purdue-Calumet team took all 8-0 lead. The Hawks never gave up and came back to win 15-13. On the final play of this game, one of the Purdue-Calumet players injured her ankle and could not continue. With no substitutes, Purdue-Calumet had to forfeit the third game. Mary Keough was the leader in spiking kills (6) and perfect passes (6) in this match.

The Hawks continued winning on Wednesday, defeating Chicago State University and National College of Education. Chicago State won the first game 16-14 but IIT took games two and three of the best of three match 15-9, 15-10. Joan Benes had 12 kills for the Hawks and Ruth Zeldenrust and Lorrene Makar each had 5 perfect passes. Marie Duckmann came in from the bench to get 6 kills.

Against National College of Education, IIT was in control all the way, winning 15-7, 15-2. Lorrene Makar was the leading spiker with 8 kills. The Hawks record is now 20 wins, 2 losses and 1 split match. Fans of IIT volleyball should make this year's team a real winner.

There's a lot of Stroh behind a Stroh Signature.

This exceptional premium beer is a product of over 200 years of Stroh family brewing experience.

Our family began brewing in Kitm, Germany, in 1775. Three quarters of a century later, Bernhard Stroh introduced Stroh's Beer to America. Through the years Stroh has come to represent the highest standards of the brewer's art.

We believe that Stroh Signature is as fine a beer as can be produced. It contains none but the choicest ingredients, including 100% imported European hops. I personally hope you enjoy it.
