TV patent granted

In the internationally competitive field of consumer electronics, researchers in Chicago have developed a new system for sending and receiving television signals which holds the potential for dramatic improvements in TV reception. Joseph L. Port, director of the Illinois Institute of Technology's Laboratories in Naperville, have been awarded a U.S. patent for their cost-effective method of generating high-definition television signals. High-definition television signals approach the quality found in 35mm motion pictures. A unique feature of their method is that the high-definition signals can be received by conventional television sets without auxiliary apparatus.

Porsche pres. resigns

Mr. Peter Schutz, who grabbed the Porsche AG President's chair last year, has resigned from his position. Schutz, who has been running Porsche AG since its foundation, announced his resignation in an elaborate show of Porsche's last year, which was marked by a strong surge in production. The future of Porsche's marketing strategy includes the expansion of its market and a strong push into production. The Porsche plans to push its yearly production by 7,300 cars and sales prices increase by 19%. They will also see a jump in production for 47 days in the first half of 1984. Porsche AG in January, 1981, after acquiring the South Division of KHD for 3 years, Cummins Engine for 11 years and Caterpillar Tractor Company for 15 years.

Last November Schutz's resignation was announced in an apparent move to train the hands of the company to be taken over by a new management team.

Donate for fire victims

Recently an IIT International student and her family were victims of a fire which destroyed all of their property. The family was completely homeless. The family lost all of its contents. The family started in the kitchen of a rented apartment and continued to spread throughout the apartment, leaving it in total ruin. Nothing from their apartment was salvageable. They have since relocated to another apartment, but they still lack most of the basic living necessities. If you would like to donate any of the following items or wish to give money, it would be greatly appreciated:

- warm clothing
- baby clothes (6-9 month female)
- kitchen utensils, glasses, etc.
- appliances, linen, towels, blankets, etc., furnaces

For more information please contact Donna Mostowy at the Foreign Student Office (in Farr Hall) or Ansel Amado, D.O.S.L. Office (northeast corner of the HUB). Items may be dropped off at either office. Thank you.

Thieves caught at Keating Hall

At approximately 6:30 p.m. on Thursday, January 21, two thieves were apprehended at Keating Hall. The young men, both approximately 20 years old, were caught and in their late teens or early twenties, attempted to enter the building through the west entrance at around 7:00 p.m. claiming that they were looking for a friend. They were dressed in fitting clothes and not have student IDs.

They managed to circumvent the 9:00 check and proceeded to the lower level where they stole a red backpack and some personal items including a jacket from the woman's locker room. The thieves managed to escape through the east doors because the alarm system was under repair.

At 8:30 p.m. the owner of the red backpack reported the thefts to the campus police and the Chicago police. The police were at the scene to take statements.

Friday, January 22, the young men were identified and apprehended. They were carrying some of the stolen belongings at the time.

Security has been increased at Keating Hall and absolutely nobody will be allowed to enter without their ID.

Dan Ryan woes

After 25 years of continual service, the Dan Ryan Expressway needs a tune-up. The Illinois Department of Transportation will give it a 16 month (beginning March 1st), $12 billion tune-up which will unfortunately affect tens of thousands of motorists each day.

As a result, the Dan Ryan's average daily volume of 225,000 vehicles must be reduced to 125,000 vehicles or less to avoid massive congestion. This goal can only be accomplished by employing a wide variety of congestion mitigation measures.

For IIT students, the Dan Ryan construction will certainly prove to be a major problem. In an effort to lessen the impact on IIT students, student government has joined forces with the Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS) to create a carpool program.

Just signing up for carpooling doesn't mean you must take the path if you are only looking for a ride to school, just check the box "passenger only" on the application form. Also, if you wish to ride alone even after you receive your match of carpool, you can also book a ride with one of the carpool services available.
Our three-year and two-year scholarships won't make IIT easier.

Just easier to pay for.

Even if you didn't start Illinois Institute on a scholarship, you can finish on one. Army ROTC Scholarships pay for full tuition and allowances for educational fees and textbooks. Along with up to $1,000 a year. Get all the facts.

SG positions open

Student government is looking for people to fill open Committee Chairman positions. Full-time students can volunteer to be the Chairmen of the following committees:

1) Cultural/Union SG is trying to make IIT part of the neighborhood in which it resides. One way of doing this is to invite the local school children in to see Focus on the Arts (sponsored by Union SG) and to help them by providing a tutoring program for elementary school children. The chairman would be responsible for coordinating dates and times of events.

2) Technology News is a newsletter which will attempt to capture the current technological news related to the student body. The chairman would be responsible for coordinating dates and times of events.

3) IIT hosts tournaments

IIT will be hosting the 1998 Association of College Unions International Games Tournament and the College Bowl on February 26th and 27th. Approximately 250 participants will be appearing at IIT from 20 colleges and universities from Illinois, Wisconsin, and Michigan. The competition will include backgammon, table tennis, 8-ball, bowling, darts, and chess. IIT will be fielding a team based on competition held through the Bowling and Recreation Center in late January and early February. All IIT full-time undergraduates with a 2.0 GPA are invited to participate in the qualifying tournaments.

Grad School
Copies of the 1988 Graduate School Guide have been received in IT's career planning and placement office.

Students who are interested in continuing their studies towards a master's or doctoral degree will find up-to-date facts about graduate degree programs at other institutions with written materials and information. Information provided includes majors, tuition, names of deans, and satellite campus addresses. A cross-section of these resources will help students identify those colleges which offer graduate degree programs in their preferred field of study.

Graduate School Guide also provides a section of handy student reply cards which make it easy to write away for admissions literature and application forms.
Feedback

by Kevin G. Smith and the IIT Community

As usual the semester is at its beginning and you will see differences in the way clubs and organizations performing good deeds to the general campus and the community in general. This is a regular event that you see year round at IIT. It becomes even more present when you see the same faces time after time and year out giving their service, volunteering their time and effort. A common goal of a few other students that was originally started years ago by students whose names they do not even know.

Students who do “get involved” but wonder why active students waste countless hours involved in organizations and interest clubs. Their time could be spending the time doing constructive with the time doing anything other than relaxing from the pressures of classes. This week’s column is geared to answer this question and give some tips on how to go about it. Finally, I hope to give new students and other students with doubts an incentive to join or participate in groups on and off campus.

Most students volunteer their time:

1. to help others.
2. to learn new skills.
3. to meet people.
4. to feel good about helping.
5. to have fun.

There are several reasons why people volunteer their time. The most common reason is to help others. However, there are also many other reasons, such as gaining skills or meeting people. Regardless of the reason, volunteering can be a rewarding experience.

Time to consider.

It's always time—for a fresh look from a new angle. It's the whole basis of creativity. Of insight. Like what you see here.

Take another look from another perspective and you can tell what it is. We at Hewlett-Packard are constantly considering things. You might say we're always a new company. That's why we enjoy a constant flow of creativity. That's why we enjoy a leadership position in the marketplace.

We're the kind of company that's perfect for a graduate with the courage to see things differently. Consider us today. It could make all the difference. By the way, if you figured this is a clock, you figured right.

All living things have their own special size for natural and understandable reasons. Although characters such as Godzilla and Thumbelina could never be achieved in the real world, Field Museum's new exhibit "SIZES" offers hands-on fun and interactive ways for visitors to learn about the sizes of things in the natural world.

Totent of the Gitksan

This extraordinary photography exhibit features over 100 totem poles of the Gitksan people of British Columbia. The exhibit consists of 5 of the world's largest pair of blue jeans - size 76 inch waist and Chicago Bear William Testa, head photographer for Field Museum. Carved in wood with stylized images of animals or mythic beings, the totem poles are worthy symbols of the status and achievements of their owners.

Positions

2) Publicity. The key to the success of the organization rests in how well people are informed of the organization’s activities. Student government needs a person with the ability to prepare public relations (newspaper, radio, etc.) designs posters, flyers, etc., and distribute these materials in a timely schedule.

3) Security. Yes, security is a two-way street. Not only must the police do their job, but the students have equally important responsibilities. The Chairman of the Security Committee would be responsible for attending the campus security meetings, providing students with a structured way to handle complaints about security, and promoting public awareness security campaigns.

4) FICU-SCAC. It is part of the Federation of Independent Colleges and Universities (FICU). Student government sends a representative to the Student Advisory Committee (SAC) of FICU to communicate information about many matters of importance to JT students, including Financial Aid. The representative for FICU-SCAC is responsible for attending the monthly meetings, reporting to the General Assembly, and reporting to the Executive Board.

qualified 5 individuals for the NCAA Nationals in Orlando, Florida, to be held in early March - and will be using its remaining competitions to qualify as many as possible for the team's main competition and goal - The Nationals.

Season begins for IFC sports

As the spring semester starts here at IT, IFC sports are starting to heat up. The first sport this semester is Basketball. The competition for this title this year should be hotter than ever. Here is a little bit about the teams and what to look for.

Alpha Epsilon Phi has two all-IFC players back from last year’s team in forward Keith Eberhardt and guard Doug Muller. Both are proven scorers and while Eberhardt and John Sodolka make the team on the boards, Muller always ends up where the ball is. The Apes should be one of the top three or four teams but a lack of a proven third scorer could keep them from the top.

Alpha Sigma Phi has a well-balanced team led by guard Bill Westwood and forward John Giarizzo. Center Ted Ewing gets off his feet well and plays good defense. "Look for the Sigma to be in every game and finish with fifth.

Delta Tau Delta is the defending champion. They have three all-IFC players back in guard Tom Walsh, center Phil Leear, and forward Phil Aschbacher. A deep bench will help in defending the title but look for the Deltas to finish in the top three.

Phi Kappa Sigma has no real big name players but play together well as a unit and should continue to play better as they have a young team.

Pi Kappa Phi is the mystery team of the group. They have lost three all-stars and won a young, relatively unknown team, but don’t count them out as they seem to end up near the top every year.

Pi Epsilon is the top contender for the title. Size and backcourt will be no problem with seniors Brett Bontrong, Scott Bontrong, and Chris Conley. Greg Smidt also is a front-liner for the Big Ears. They will probably finish one or two.

Hoopsters reign victorious

While you were away baking in the sun or opening your multitude of presents your Hoopsters were doing some tanning of their own as they fanned the hides of their opponents. They scorched during the break for 4 victories and only 2 defeats.

While averaging over 84 points per contest and giving up 72 plus, your Scarlet Hawks raised their record to 7-5 and 1-1 in conference play.

Hawk honored

Ryan Kirkland, 89” Junior guard from Mendel Catholic High School and a major of the Business School was named the CCAC Player of the Week in week number one of conference play. Ironically, Kirkland received the same honor last season. His statistics and all-around play were exceptional, while his running-game at the guard spot, John Mahoney was fourth in the voting with an outstanding week himself.

Kirkland is averaging 24.0 points per game while shooting a remarkable 61% from the field and only 50% from the charity stripe. He is second on the team in rebounding in this young conference season, trailing only John Mahoney. He is first in steals and first in assists.
