The Armour Players

Tuesday that versatile magazine, the Armour, announces its new sponsor Mr. W. R. Fulghum. Since its reorganizational merger, the Armour has seen much rather different. From a struggling body with make-shift illumination and shaky facts so old that they felt apt who until one time had the spirit, the life and the power with the spirit, the life and the power of a real credit to Armour. All this, and under the guidance of Professor W. Hendrick, who, because of more pressing affairs has relinquished the editorship to Fred Eggers.

During their period under Professor Hendrick, the Armour Players have produced a number of memorable performances which have been received with more enthusiasm than the Armour has known since those need not be mentioned here; suffice it to say that the players at one time had the spirit and the life of a real credit to Armour. They have been taken down and eaten, and now they have purchased a new dress coat. All equipment has been purchased and under the new sponsor, they expect to continue to improve the quality of their productions and add, little by little to their inventory. May the play tomorrow be the best yet and may the new direction Mr. Fulghum, be as proud of the organization as was Professor Hendrick.

On behalf of the students of Armour, the News wishes to express its deep sympathy with Raymond Plutonium, whose father died on Tuesday, April 21.

FRESH STUDY GROUPS HOLD FIRST MEETINGS

In order to study freshmen with efficiency in their work, four study groups have been organized. On Friday, April 17, the first meetings of the groups were held under the supervision of Mrs. Gruenau of the University of Chicago. Miss Gruenau, who is experienced in this type of work, is to take charge of all groups.

The students in the groups are chosen from all ranks of freshmen, based upon the intelligence tests and evalution made to meet every Friday. According to Dean Reavis, these groups, if successful, will be continued next semester and will be extended to all freshmen.

SCHEDULES

Senior Mechanical Engineering:

Conduct Boiler Tests:

Working continuously for six hours, testing various municipal and industrial water systems at the boiler of the Mackay Hotel power plant last week. The testing continued from Tuesday noon to Monday noon, each test taking a shift of three hours.

Periodic readings taken by members of the group are to be plotted on a continuous graph, and the reports submitted each night to the supervising faculty to be studied.

George Frost, when at the University of Michigan, noticed the same operating system in the smoke chimney and in other factories.

The testing yesterday was conducted under the supervision of the mechanical engineering department.

DIGITAL STORAGE

Incorporates various storage devices, including the digital storage devices, which store digital data in a non-volatile manner. The device is a compact, portable unit that can be used to store data for long-term retention.

"We're happy with the way things are going," said the manager of the Digital Storage Products Division.

"The unit is designed to meet the needs of both professional and consumer markets. It is a reliable, easy-to-use device that provides a convenient way to store important information."

History tells us that

When Christopher Columbus' sailors took tobacco back home with them everybody hailed it as one of the first major achievements in history.

Today tobacco gives more pleasure to more people than ever before.

Many different claims are made for tobacco, but most everybody agrees on this — Smoking is a pleasure and the effect is the most pleasant form of socialization possible.
