The Syracuse Daily Orange tells of a "battle of whistle" held annually between two local athletic teams as a consequence of an old railroading dispute. Claims are exchanged.

This week's prize for the strongest contribution goes to T. B. Flowers, a Syracuse University junior, for his essay on "The Railroader's Game." He has qualified as a teacher, historian, and member of the Syracuse State Legislature. He hopes to graduate by the time he is 22.

Students too shall have an opportunity to demonstrate their skills in various activities, including baseball, football, and basketball. The exercise sessions are designed to foster athletic and social interaction.

The city of Cambridge plans to inaugurate a "service of choice" at about a million dollars during the summer. M. T. I. T. is planning to offer several football games and student visits, and removal of the whiskers. We do not know just what they mean, but it is exciting.

University of Kansas students will have a trip to the coast for the benefit of the English department. The trip was planned by the English faculty.

Graduation of a three-year high school, the first to enroll in the College of New York as a proprietary school, will be held in a college at four years' graduation from other city high schools, expects Priscilla P. B. Reade.

JUNIOR WEEK (Continued from page 7 of the drawing show in the last semester, with a special group of activities on the topic of "The English Language"). The complete schedule for the activities for the year is published in the "Junior Week" edition.

BOOK REVIEW

"Swerving for a rugby only takes it easy." Tuskegee's Mr. Crayle followed the old philosophy. That is just a game of the thinking, intruded upon by profits or custom, that pervades this land.

At first glance, the opening statement seems a bit too schematic and idealistic, if not false. But, why is it made? If the author makes a mistake, he is found wanting by being artistic in style. A realistic artist could do better than to merely contradict an unrelated, but parallel, life. If all his sons are conversing in the end of the world, he ought to be balanced. For instance, Mr. Crayle made a serious mistake in his previous calculation of how poor students have exceeded all expectations at an artistic exhibition. He inserted his line of action on metaphysical topics in the previous section, which is not good. Now, given a chance, he has a chance.

GERMAN KITCHEN

The first floor has been enlarged, and the bulletin board has been moved to a new location on the second floor. The German kitchen has been improved with the addition of new equipment. The German kitchen is well known for its delicious and authentic German cuisine.

The Sorority of Beta Phi Mu, the women's social sorority, has been recognized by the University as a chapter. The sorority was founded in 1920 and has been active on campus since its establishment.

The Sisters of St. Joseph have opened a new dormitory on campus. The dormitory is designed to accommodate the growing student population and provide additional housing options for students.

Dr. Thomas C. Seulzer, president of the University of Kansas, has been named to the Board of Regents for the University of Kansas. Dr. Seulzer is a distinguished academic leader and has made significant contributions to the university during his tenure.

Since 1999 the growth in college graduates has been 2.7 times as great as the growth in population.

Dr. George Yamamoto, the president elect of the American Association of Universities, plans to retire from his position in 2024.
