A Motion to Cut Initiation Fees to Honories

When a student is invited to a number of honorary fraternities, such as Armour Tech, he finds his small fortune to wear another key on his watch chain. Explanations for the high initiation fees, the average of which is $20, are numerous, among which are included the cost of the key, some $2.50; the cost of the fraternity dance, fraternity news sheet, pictures in the Cape and miscellaneous expenses. It is felt that these items should be cut out. If necessary, affairs as the fraternity house could be made optional and not included in the initiation fee. In round numbers, fraternity initiation fees should be set at $15.

Social Highlights

Despite the last two weeks of work in preparation for finals, social events are still continuing the existent of the Fraternity. Last Friday evening the Delta Sigma Chi installed the figure "Pater Noster," and it was really a huge success. Dinner speakers were Dean Betz and Professor Engelland, who gave a rousing talk on the subject of fraternity chapters and Sigma Chi." Many thanks to Mr. Crittenden for all the services he has given to the organization.

On this same evening, one of the most enjoyable affairs of the year was held at the Armour Tech house. The Kappa Pi gathered around their usual hearth and enjoyed a pleasant evening of good conversation and good food. A number of guests were present and everyone enjoyed the night.

"What's become of the counselors?" has been a common query with which Glee Club, president of the A. T. R. B. Club, has been assailed during the past week by worried athletes.

There is no cause for worry for about four dozen counselors are here and ready for distribution; however, there is a small amount of confusion among the counselors. The list of counselors was distributed before an awards ceremony could be held. According to those in charge, more towers are missing this year than have been in previous years. No accusations of theft have been made, but it might be that the towers received burns by carelessness. Some of the towers are charged with towers who certainly would not like any Future assistant managers should remember to be careful with their records of equipment.

The tower problem was greatly improved recently as the school now subscribes to a service with daily pickups. The same towers will have to be used for several days now, so the situation is not as bad as before.

Considering everything, it seems as if a good idea for all students to turn in their equipment as soon as the semester is completed.

Continuing on the same way the junior-senior elimination in the first half of the tourney has worked out well. The sophomores-below-.500 elimination games have been far more competitive, and the tourney as a whole has been more exciting.
