Lewis States
Plan for New
B. A. Co-ops

Cooperative curricular in business administration and industrial management will be inaugurated at Lewis Institute on February 4, 1941, and will be open to both men and women. Following the popular plan at Armour, students will alternate every eight weeks between school and industry. They will receive six years' credit in three years. The program will provide a means for qualified high school graduates to earn part of their college requirements by working full-time and thus complete a four-year course in five years. Valuable services will be rendered to the employers of this school of commerce and industry and will have the advantage of the experience of their continued education.

Leadership Required

Students entering the new cooperative plan will come either as recent high school graduates and receive a position through negotiations by the Institute, or certain university students who may be permitted to enter under the proper non-degree requirements. Applicants will be limited to those having high school senior class standing, and successful completion of a competitive examination will be required.

Training for Business Opportunity

By W. C. Frey

There is a rising demand for qualified business personnel, and the Institute is aiming to meet this demand by offering a program that combines academic study with practical work experience. This cooperative plan will provide students with the opportunity to gain valuable hands-on experience in the business world while still pursuing their formal education. It is an excellent opportunity for students who are interested in pursuing careers in business administration and industrial management. The program will also benefit employers by providing them with well-prepared and experienced candidates. Overall, this new plan at Lewis Institute is a win-win situation for both students and employers.
Galluping Poll

By James Murray

Names, names, names! There are the new boys of the Galluping Poll representatives in the past two weeks. The outcome of their appeal brought fine results from the early campus, but from the April meeting there was a steady, careful, but not a certain, growth. The older members of the group are happy to see the new faces in the papers. The Galluping Poll is not only a means of getting the latest news, but also a means of meeting new people. The new faces represent a fresh approach to old problems.

Unique Titles suggested

First, we will look to the future! The Galluping Poll is suggested by the engineers of Armour. This is a rather simple thing to do. A few hours can make many people aware of the benefits of the new weapon. By aluminum, stainless steel, and other materials, the Galluping Poll can be constructed in various forms. Approximately 85 per cent of the students on the main campus were found to be using the “Cypher,” while the remaining, although inventing a change, were at least as good at the change might be.

New at Lewis the situation was quite different. Miss Aron, who conducted the search for names, submitted to the University of Chicago, Illinois, College of Commerce, a report on the Galluping Poll. The Galluping Poll, while it is a useful tool, is still in its infancy. In the next few years, it will be used to obtain more information about the students. The Galluping Poll is a useful tool that is still in its infancy. In the next few years, it will be used to obtain more information about the students.

Origin of Suggested Titles

A name or title is something that is suitable to all students. Also, there is preferably the qualification that it should contain the name of the University of Chicago. In the case of the Galluping Poll, this name is not necessary. It is clearly stated in the Lewis Bulletin that the Galluping Poll should appeal to the south side students. But all of these students are not necessarily interested in the Galluping Poll. It was the case that the “Cypher” was used as the means to learn about the Galluping Poll. Each of these has a distinctive method of appealing to the students.

The Managing Board of the TECHNOLOGY NEWS welcomes contributions to this column from students. However, we cannot guarantee publication for nor do we necessarily subscribe to the ideas presented in the following letter from a Lewis student.

Within the confines of the Lewis Institute Divi dional School of Technology, the Galluping Poll, which is located in the north-east corner, can be inadvertently\bitten into all of it. A good idea is to check in with the Galluping Poll and see if there is any news. This is not necessary. It is clearly stated in the Lewis Bulletin that the Galluping Poll should appeal to the south side students. But all of these students are not necessarily interested in the Galluping Poll.

Voice of Students

This is the limit to which this column may ex cise its resources. This space in our paper has been reserved to publish the sentiments of our students, and not merely written reports. Nor has it ever been the policy of the paper to present any material connected with the Galluping Poll, even if not of direct application to it.

From this point on, it is the problem of those most interested in this printed material to continue the further steps, and the problem of the paper to present any material connected with the Galluping Poll, even if not of direct application to it.

The lucky Indians are back in school after a week's vacation that again found you all at the tail end. On the boys' first day, however, they didn't argue, but went to the student union and proceeded to sell the consulate. On the last day, John Stirling (Stinky) and Walter Jordan were in the hospital with a hangover from the office. Stinky was visited by his parents while Walter was visited by his parents and several others who had been in school for the right time.

On the morning of his release he was allowed to shave himself instead of having to shave a warden. Turning to say something to one of the wardens who happened to be shaving, he said, "I hope the hair falls on the shaving mirror, which fell to the ground.

When he tried to go on his shave he looked at the shank where the enterior had been.

"Well, if that isn't my luck!" he exclaimed. "After twenty years in this place you think you're going to let me cut my head off!"

Thanksgiving is over, but some people still want to celebrate. You see, the girls here at Lewis are very busy and want to think of others, especially at this season.

Wednesday, the day before Thanksgiving, the pages were at work. As one of the boys, who had been planning their book, went down to the dining hall, he saw a group of people standing around the bulletin board. "I'm sure the folks enjoyed what you sent for them.

This week we have news from the Phi Beta Sigma chapter, who have been working hard on the new books they plan to publish. The girls were in formal attire and we understand that all looked very charming. Recordings and movies were made of the occasion. The ceremony received much attention from the local papers.

The Sigma Bitheta Omicron chapter was having a formal affair, which was followed by a bountiful banquet.

The first Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi was organized, and the chapter was formed in a grand manner. The girls were dressed in their finest gowns and the boys were dressed in their tuxedos. The banquet was followed by a dance that lasted well beyond midnight.

You've all had our share of fat forgotten friend of ours! Lucrative, Lucrative, many days call for a easy understandable.

That old feeling of contentment that one gets while sitting comfortably, being led by Mr. Wapack, might not come just once, but many, many times during the winter months.

Let's take a peek at Lucy and Mary. Both of them are a bit older, and we shall see what we shall see. Evidently, we're in love for Lucy. Our Lucy is novel, and is beginning to feel at ease in her skirt. She's wearing one of those old, well worn, and quite comical things that just don't feel right. Our Lucy is very shy, but she isn't one to turn down a good dance. She's sitting in the audience, waiting for something to happen, with a pleasant, smiling face.

The door is opened and Lucy's noble form is seen entering the house. She is quite fat, and quite comical too. Her hair is quite fat, and quite comical too. Lucy approaches the house and to her surprise, she finds a pleasant, smiling face.

The change is quite obvious. Our Lucy has seen an all new change in her. She's no longer the shy, fat, awkward girl she used to be. She's more of a social butterfly, with a smile that lights up her face. She's become quite popular, and is now quite well liked.

"Oh, hello, John," in a sickly weak voice. She can feel John's penetrating look, and can't help but feel a bit daunted. She's quite fat, and quite comical too. Her face is quite fat, and quite comical too. The change is quite obvious.

Blitzkrieg!

Greetings!

Cherished readers, our weeklyavis from warfronts has been delayed due to various reasons, including heavy rains and the loss of key personnel in the field. As a result, our next edition will be even more delayed than usual.

Let's start with the "Sturmtiger" again this week. It seems that the German army is preparing for a new offensive in the east. The "Sturmtiger" is said to be a powerful assault vehicle, with a high velocity and increased firepower.

Say "Quicky" old boy, they have beautiful girls, too! But they aren't as skilled as our girls here in Britannia. I wish we could have more girls in the service.

As for the "Sturmtiger," it seems that the front is becoming more intense. The "Sturmtiger" is said to be the most feared vehicle on the battlefield.

Enjoy your reading and stay alert!

CAGERS OPEN AGAINST COLONELS

Senior Mechs Whip Three Teams In Drive for Second Championship

Mud, Snow Feature Tournament Finals

Two mud-splattered teams emerged from the mud of Ogle Field, the Senior Mechs and the Junior Mechs, as the Senior Mechs closed out last minute victory from a fighting Junior Mechs squad. The final score was 7-6 with the touchdowns being scored by Frank Peffer, after what looked like a very close decision.

The kickoff was received by the Junior Mechs who failed to gain ground. Mud offered the chief resistance to the attempt of the Senior Mechs and the ball recovered by the Junior Mechs after a touchdown.

With no scores at the half, the contest began at daylight in the second half as the agitated battle continued on the wind-swept field. The Junior Mechs threatened constantly, but were stopped in two more Senior Mechs on the goal line.

The Senior Mechs continued their drive for the first championship of the day by tying Thanksgiving with a 1-0 victory over the Senior Mechs. It was the sixth win in a row for the Mechs and first victory for the Civils.

CAGE RECORD OF 1939-40 REVIEWED

We are about to embark upon a new basketball season and therefore it is possible to review and familiarize ourselves with the team’s record in the past year. Oddly enough, the only available data is that of the 1939-40 season, which is the only season that has been recorded.

Tuesday, December 5, the Illini Tech basketball, sporting a new name and composed of practically new men will open its 1940-41 season against the well known Chicago Technical College. The game will be played at 1:30 at the Gymnasium. This is the first game for the season and the only one that is scheduled.

The team consists of many new faces, although one man, Bob Fisher, has returned from the Tech squad earlier this season. The game will be played by Frank Peffer, after what looked like a very close decision.

All you would-be sportment, on your toes. This winter it's going to be non-stop activities for the sport-minded student. The outlook is bright with ping pong, bowling and basketball coming in rapid succession.

At the present time the ping pong tournament is going full blast. A large number of fellows have turned out and the ping pong tables are kept hot with the constant action that they experience. The first round is about over and the second round will start soon.

Awards will be made for the winner in the singles tournament and the top team in the doubles will also receive awards for their efforts.

Cape Townway Crossing

As soon as convenient, the intramural, interclass, inter-department parties will go into effect. This is the first time that the intramural manager has tried an inter-department basketball tournament. Watch the bulletin board for details.

The basketball competition has been noted to other departments, but this year in order to make the games of the tournament available for the members of the tournament it has been split up into interdepartment competition.

The teams are to consist of eight men and the pairings will be made in a fashion similar to that used in the touch baseball tournament. That is, they will be made without regard to class or department. Thus far, seventeen teams have entered the tournament. There is still room for more. At the completion of the tournament the winning team members will be awarded medals.
