War Bond Drive Nears Goal, But Extra Effort Is Required

A total of $881,25 was paid as of Friday. Illinois Tech students, both civilian and navy, were the main bond drive, with $861,375 sold last week. The navy purchases include those of: the officers, medical, and dental groups. The extra effort is being made by the various organizations, including the Navy Club, which has set a goal of $1,000,000 for bonds.

Yearbook Difficulties

One of the biggest questions on the campus for a long time has been "When is the Integral coming out?" As scheduled, it was to be distributed this last October, but now the staff reports that it will not come out until the beginning of December.

What are the reasons for this delay? Well, it seems the blame is on the scarcity of workers for this publication. But of course it is just the opposite of the reason, but it does amount to the reason. The main trouble with the Integral has been the poor organization of its staff. Too much of the work has been left to the editors, and then things don't get too much of it. The policy has been: let the other fellow do it, and the other fellow in turn forget to do it. In that case the staff wastes most of its time; the yearbook work is always being put off.

This is the reason the Integral has been extraordinarily well. Well, what's to be done about it? The harm is not been done on the present book. But something can be done for future books. Before any plans are made for the next issue, the student body should try to guarantee a book at time which Integral can be printed. Only then may this can be done for the student leaders to get together and arrange a reorganization of the yearbook; it needs an adequately large and experienced group to help the work.

The present staff is too small to do the job alone. Furthermore the vacancies should not be left to a group of students who will not check their work. If students expect any more yearbooks, now is the time to take constructive action.

Civilian Split

School spirit among civilian students at Illinois Tech seems to have hit a new low, judging by the comparative number of civilian students now participating in the various activities.

At a glance at the basketball and football team rosters, it is evident that there is a civilian and a military element. At least two civilian students were subjected to a great deal of verbal abuse because of their lack of interest in extra-curricular functions since then. The two civilian students, both of whom were in the varsity line, have taken heart, put in and found that a wealth of enjoyment and knowledge lies outside of the textbooks and classrooms.

A pair of new students are scheduled to arrive this week. John Smith and James Johnson, both of whom are expected to contribute to the school spirit, will be welcomed by the entire student body.

Shades of night are falling and for fear that some rowdy might demolish the shed it left outside, I am going to put it in reverse, discard the dusk, change the film and sack off.
LETTER OF THE WEEK: Gym Classes

What to be neglected? Where are the gym classes? Now don’t think this is a silly statement. Most of the women here are working all day and it is a task in itself to fill the regular classes. However, why shouldn’t we be allowed to keep the girls in shape? We will all be entering the service men and we must think of ourselves. We must join the women’s line and not just stand in the back. If the need to be fit affects you, wouldn’t it be better to join? If we don’t want to, let’s not do it. If we want to, let’s make an effort to do so.

BETTYE J. BROWN, Junior Industrial

A SHERFORD, Junior Industrial

I believe that it depends upon the women themselves. We have to make an effort to improve our bodies for the future, and if we don’t want to, we shouldn’t be forced to. We should have the option to choose whether we want to participate in gym classes or not.

Table Manners

In this age of R.O.T.C., I believe the topic of table manners should be discussed. I have noticed that many of my classmates are not aware of basic table manners. It is important to show respect to those around us and to set a good example. Let’s all try to remember to say “please” and “thank you,” and to keep our elbows off the table.

BETTYE J. BROWN, Junior Industrial

I disagree. Table manners are not as important as they used to be. People these days are too rushed and don’t have the time to worry about such things. It’s not worth getting upset over.

BETTYE J. BROWN, Junior Industrial

I agree with both of you. It’s important to be polite and respectful in all situations.

The first time I saw her she reminded me of a flight of Byron, she had such an air of coldness. Just like Jean she claimed her face in her features, but I doubt whether anyone will marry her for the money.

EDDIE J. BROWN, Junior Industrial

I agree that money should not be the sole reason for marriage. True love is the most important factor.

A SHERFORD, Junior Industrial

I disagree. People these days are too fickle and marriage should be based on money to ensure a stable future.

BETTYE J. BROWN, Junior Industrial

I think you’re both right. It’s a difficult decision to make, but it’s important to consider both love and financial stability.

School Spirit

In this age of R.O.T.C., it is difficult to maintain school spirit. However, I believe that it is important to show support for our school and to participate in activities. Let’s all try to remember to wear our school colors and to be proud of our school.

BETTYE J. BROWN, Junior Industrial

I agree. It’s important to show support for our school and to be proud of our school spirit.

A SHERFORD, Junior Industrial

I disagree. School spirit is not as important as it used to be. People these days are too busy and don’t have the time to worry about such things.

BETTYE J. BROWN, Junior Industrial

I think you’re both right. It’s a difficult decision to make, but it’s important to consider both school spirit and personal time.

Water is not very appetizing and several of the boys are beginning to notice it. It is beginning to taste salty, like the Irish Sea, on which none of them ever saw. When the average man was still going to the same place, he was never to eat, and the boys were never to drink it.
