The Sophomores will hold their first class meeting this Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in the science laboratory. It is suggested that members of the class are present to discuss the current course topics and future plans.
A Word to the Wise?

There is a sign which adorns the wall of Illinois Tech's one-stor mator in Main Building and states that aid is for the use of the faculty, members, and students only.

Every semester it seems to be necessary to remind a few freshmen and sophomore of the fact. This is not because it is not necessary to do so but because they seem to have forgotten that the notice is a decoration. Also every semester it seems to be necessary to remind the few hardy souls who are still trying to carry their elevators as they used to. Usually this "showering" has taken the form of a pleasant ride up to the fifth floor where the "victim" has been thrown and sometimes not gently into the showers, clothes and all.

The reasons for the necessity of the rule are at least partially apparent. Now if one is to use the I.T. elevator there is just not room for everyone. However, even more important is the fact that this rule is one of the remaining IT traditions. Every junior and senior was once a freshman and hereby is quite familiar with that long trek to the fifth floor, and no unselfishness need feel that they are being shafted.

In the past it has been the task of the juniors to get as "persuaders" and once again it seems time for them to exert their authority.

Orchids to the ITSA

In accordance with the ITSA board should be congratulated for the excellent way they arranged the naval social tea for the senior class. As evidence of the success of the venture, over three-fourths of the Y-W unit on the south campus responded in the drive.

Such a plan has been tried in the past, but always failed. The change now can be attributed to the fairer attitude now towards the navy student. Before, the ITSA tried to exact the full civilian fee from them, and yet offer a better Navy-related item. Now, however, the ITSA has promised that the small $1 fee will be used to give the men full value.

A/B Bob Freund and his committee ought to be congratulated for the splendid job they performed. They stated the facts of the situation on a little poster which they distributed. Then they let the students decide for themselves whether or not they would be willing to co-operate. That is certainly a fairer method to use than the system which was the rule in previous drives.

Since this money is now being distributed to the various class treasuries, it will be up to the class officers to live up to the promise of the I.T.S.A. and the ITSA in general. Now is the opportunity to show that they are going to get their money's worth of the social, etc.

It is the hope of the editors that the board is being spent wisely, perhaps practical all will subscribe next semester.

Man of the Week

Danielson's Election to ITSA Holds Spotlight This Week

A/B Earl Danielson, senior in civil engineering, holds the spotlight on the campus this week because of his recent election as the first term president of the ITSA. He is well known on campus and is a member of the Illinois Tech Tennis team.

Elaborating on his winning qualities, Danielson said, "I believe that I am the right person for the job. I have been involved in the ITSA for the past two years and have had the opportunity to work closely with the other officers." Danielson then added, "I am looking forward to working with my fellow officers and the ITSA members to make this year a success."
A Look At Alumni

Briq. Gen. Douglas Le Weir, C43, you recently presented with the Order of Yacoceus de Balba, Panama, and your award was made to General Wust who is the chief of staff of the Cahuilso defense force, for his cooperation in the Panama government in the war effort.

Clinton Smirker, CB17, of the Northrup Manufacturing Company Beardboard, is now a member of the Board of Trustees at Tulane Tech.

A First Sunday to enter the SPAR is Muriel Marp, N5C. By now, her name is well known throughout the Signal.

Sergeant James Remo, last year's baseball and basketball star, has broken his arm in the 100 yard dash. The story goes that a friend of his was showing him how to throw a grenade when the instrument, "accidentally" exploded one of his fingers. Little did he know what he was doing! Later, his friend instructed him to throw a grenade.

J. L. Mintz, a member of the Signal's Editorial Committee.

Co-op Ineffective

The Co-op Bookstore, in my opinion, has not been functioning too effectively. They are never open when you want to be. Even now, they will say any time they will be open when they aren't.

It is no joke to give free sight of books and then find them stolen. The stock is also very depleted and the books received in the mail are not getting what you are after once they have gone through the mail.

The Co-op bookstore is supposed to take any of your books for a ten dollar book which OVER the cost of the books. So this does not stop you from making more efficiency and better management.

Free Period

The only attraction of the free period was to develop a habit of study. From now on, there are no changes in the schedule and it is during the free period.

Free periods are a great step forward for us students. They give us a chance to catch up for a bit. Why can't some actions be taken in respect to this?

Lawrence

Ed Ardena

Ed Ardena deserves to be complimented for his diligent work in being Mr. High School. He is the best scholar, as well as a leader of the students. He is the one who is always in front, from now on and other days.

Bill Ardena

Ruth Kastner

Ruth Kastner for the Editorial Board at Tulane Tech. The engineering curricula is not that the student wants to know more about. However, it is a question that pertains to the meeting.

In general, I think that there is a lot of good intentions and more work that is expected of them as well. They are not expected to be very much.

V. T. Student:

"The money is good for all right, but the question is not what is it worth?

"They're only going to tell you a character by his colors. 'Character' means more than character."

"And if you go fishing for a pin, you'll get a dike."

"I've been told, without looking up."

"Caught any fish today?"

"Recent reports from the news show that 95% of the accidents are unreported because the drivers have now a clear view of the curves."

"I would like to see a greater variety of colors. I've been there for a long time, and it's not the same thing."

"In my town, I've been told, there's a girl who doesn't smoke, drink, or gamble."

"That's what he wants to live in longest."

"Here's where I get a good fix."

"Any man walking along a country road met the farmer. The farmer was hurt, and the man tried to help him."

"Was he helped?"

"No, but he's a gambler."

"Mark, 'I'd go there."

"Here, why not take it?"

"Why don't you take it?"

"I'd rather you didn't tell me."

Original Instructor in Aéro Takes up Flying at Seventy

The man who founded the first course in aerioplane design in the U.S. never flew until he was 98 years old. But he is one of the most active students of aviation and is interested in civil engineering at IIT. After retiring in 1939 he began flying again. He is now a chief engineer in a company producing such machines and is considered an authority on the subject. He wrote a book on Aéro from 1910 to 1916. He retired in 1916 to teach lieutenant engineering. Soon after his retirement he actually began flying again, after becoming familiar with the principles of aviation for nearly 50 years.

Lunchroom Music to Play Regularly

Music will now be heard during the lunch hour at the Student Union. The first, which is frequency-modulated, is a verse of "Keep Calm, Radio Engineer's Felicitations." During the past year, this music was broadcast three times. Because of the last half-hour of the music, the manager recommended that it be broadcast regularly. The program is to be held on both campuses on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.
