AUSTRALIAN VISITS ARMS ON TOUR

Armour Institute has a long tradition of international relations, and this year is no exception. The Institute has received several invitations from universities in other countries, and has confirmed that students will head abroad this year. The students will participate in several activities, such as observing local culture, visiting museums, and attending lectures. The trip is designed to provide students with a unique perspective on different cultures and ways of life.

EDITORIAL (7)

When "we" is sitting at his desk, trying to think of something that's true and important, at the same time applicable to school life, the thoughts just won't jump. The editorial column stowed him out, and the editor of the diarist in columnos, instead of his thoughts, are to rest on a counter,尔 revised, why might it read something like this:

This is the 5th & 6th edition of the Armour Times. A 5th and 6th edition at that! We're looking forward to the 7th and 8th edition. It's a bit of an effort, but it's worth it. The editor is working on it, and he's making progress.

The editor is working on it, and he's making progress. The editor is working on it, and he's making progress. The editor is working on it, and he's making progress. The editor is working on it, and he's making progress. The editor is working on it, and he's making progress. The editor is working on it, and he's making progress. Professors’ Salary Raised at M.I.T. by Increasing Tuition

From the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, we find that the tuition there has been increased from $900 to $950 for the academic year 1960-61 in two stages, the first of which took place on January 1, 1960.

The increased funds available will be used for the expansion of the present campus and also for providing a fuller salary schedule for the non-graduate teaching staff. It was said by the President that the funds will be used to meet the increased cost of living and to attract and retain the best possible teaching staff.

Hence, the increase in tuition is aimed at keeping pace with inflation.

Design Contest

The Outfitting Competition, sponsored by the Association of the American Railroads, was held in Boston on January 27th. The theme of the contest, "Design a Train," was given to all participants. The contestants were asked to submit their designs for trains that would be used for passenger service between Boston and New York City.

The contest was open to anyone interested in the field of railway engineering, and the winners were announced on February 1st.

ARMOUR TECH NEWS

A cablegram from Armour and Company's Trencher Company indicates that the company is experiencing a rise in prices for its products, particularly in the Midwest region. The company is currently looking for ways to reduce costs while maintaining quality.

FRAKTENI NOTES

BETA PSI

The annual Beta Psi Fall Frolic dance held December 5th proved to be a great success. Several bars were set up around the university, and the activities included horseback riding, a bonfire, and a midnight watch.

The Beta Psi Fraternity was represented by its President, who was presented with a trophy by the Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity. The Beta Psi Fraternity is planning to hold similar events in the future.

TRIANGLE

In starting off the new year with a flourish, Triangle held a New Year's Eve party at the Triangle house on January 1st. The party was attended by members of the Triangle fraternity, as well as visitors from other fraternities and sororities on campus.

The party featured music, dancing, and a midnight toasts to the new year.

PRINTING... of Good Quality

We are not boastful, but we wish to say with becoming modesty, that the output of our plant is constantly improving. We are today turning out better typewritten, better presswork, better combinations of types with better paper, and better work with better paper, than ever before. We have one more, and our aim is to please our customers.

Ring us up and have one of our salaried call and show you samples of our work along the line of your proposed printing, whether Catalog, Booklet, Magazine, Trade Journal, Broadsides, Folder, Office Form, Letter Head, Envelope or What Not

We have night and day staffs for each class of work and can please you in all of them.
