REFERENCE BOOK FINES HEAVY IN OTHER SCHOOLS

Miss Steele Receives Right to Remain Questionnaire

RULES VARY WIDELY

Miss Nell Steel, head of an effort to improve the reference book instruction at Armory, has developed a questionnaire to twenty-two schools asking for their methods of handling students who are in need of attention.

Practically all reference book manuals were found to be satisfactory, and practically all of the twenty-two schools had at least one reference book. A careful selection was made, and the names of the schools were received.

The procedure followed by these schools was identical in most cases, and the reference book was usually a fine book. In some cases, the reference book was not used at all.

Bexers Get New Squared Circle

If the tentative plans calling for a new squared circle at the school are carried out by Bexer Stein, principal, the school will have an opportunity to watch its local participants in action in the next school gymnasium.

The squared circle, which would be six feet wide, would be made of canvas and would be suspended from the ceiling. The squared circle would be approximately 25 feet in diameter.

The squared circle would be used for various sports, such as wrestling, boxing, and gymnastics.

IT'S NOT WHAT YOU THINK

No body like the flowers need the sunlight. Like the carpet needs the sun, but we all need a lot of money. Like the current needs the pool, like the collar needs the button, like the opal needs the water. You can see that all need some environment to be in. The dress needs some wind.

SHOW BOAT
Presented at the Illinois Theater
A Sidestep Comedy Show has been long promised to Chicago and now it is here, for one thing. It has long been known that George Arliss was making the film and such a show is needed. The show is not a complete failure, but not quite enough to prevent a rather unpleasant atmosphere. The show is not quite as good as it was promised to be, but still it is a pleasant enough evening for anyone to enjoy.

The show has been adapted slightly from Niles Belote's book of the same name. The story is of Niles Belo- cath答题结束。
