THE SLIPSTICK

Clue to the Slipstick:

She is the Slipstick by whom she is known.

Those Are Sweet Words

The oldest tale of lovers or love may be perhaps, "I might have been." The sweetest words we have, by both.

They only have, "Thou sendest sad thought."”

The semiannual struggle is over. All—high of spirits.

WHAT DO YOU EXPECT, A WIC?

"Why, there's hardly a wave to speak of!" "That's all right this is normal weather!"

O. W.

A line is as strong as its weakest word.

Teacher: "I had six children and eight sheep. How would you make the apple go across the room?"

Modern Youngster: "Aw, apple-wise!"

Chooch.

A peacemaker is a fellow who says he doesn't expect to live the rest of his life.

While you are enjoying, piano playing, and getting rid of the dregs, it is time for conversation. Student graduation in Free; student wondering what he's doing there, getting by sight, and probably aren't six feet from now.

A music master says he had two black birds. Really the class finish last, only seven more semesters if you are lucky.

ONE FOR LITTLE WILLIE

Mother (on absent?): "If you are not a good boy, I shall take away my scissors from you!"

Little Willie: "You shall not; I'll tell the contadora my real name!"

R. C. K.

In My own punishment.

VERLY, IT'S YOURS

The most reliable folks in the world are college men—there never seems to be a lack of change about them.

"What was the joke, know the proof told it clear?"

"I don't know. He didn't say."

Phyl. I

Understudies thrive on the bitter market.

Fair One: "Is football your favorite game?"

Po' Boy: "I'm on it! Who's yours?"

Walt.

The first start to tell a joke about a croaker, or it darks, anywhere either he forgets the best part of it, or it doesn't joke.

Limit of Politeness

He: "Pardon me, my dear missus, but you're pressing your umbrellas into my eye." "Oh, I'm sorry!"

She: "Oh, don't mention it! I have another eye."

W. D. P.

She's a lot cuter, he said as he made his百货 budge.

This is the first issue of the Armour Tech News by the staff of 1929. We present it to you with the hope that it is continuing the high standards set for it by the staff of 1928. David T. Sheng and his colleagues. He has left a glorious record in its service, and we are going to miss him. We trust that the new staff will work toward that end.

The staff is made up of students, and represents the active members of the organization. They are not the most popular, but the paper shall be worthy of Armour and true to the best traditions of the institution. Our aim is to improve the editorial policy and the style, and to bring in our own. Students new, improved and re-modeling are to be included. We are open to improve.

"General Electric is a fact, not a name." This is the motto of General Electric, the manufacturer of a wide variety of electrical and electronic products and equipment. The company was founded in 1876 by Thomas Edison, and has since become one of the largest and most respected companies in the world. General Electric produces a wide range of products, including appliances, lighting, transportation systems, and industrial equipment. They are dedicated to providing innovative and reliable products that meet the needs of their customers. The company is also known for its commitment to research and development, continuously improving their products and processes. General Electric is proud of their heritage as a leader in the electrical and electronic industry, and continues to innovate and adapt to meet the changing needs of the world.
ALUMNI NEWS

Among the recent visitors were Charles E. Nutter, who now lives in Kalamazoo, Illinois, "who is the old man of the class"; John D. Doll, "who is the youngest of the class"; and Charles E. Nutter, "who is the only man of the class who is still alive." The class reunion was a great success, and all who attended had a wonderful time. The class officers are making plans for next year's reunion, and they are already looking forward to it with great anticipation.

FRED PEYER, 29, dropped in from Mississippi, where he is working as an advertising manager. Fred reports that he is very happy and is looking forward to his future. He is planning to marry his fiancée next year, and they are both excited to start their new life together.

SPEAKING OF MARJORIE L. SLEMMER, 30, who is working as a nurse in a hospital in New York City. She reports that she is very happy and is looking forward to her future in the medical field.

The next class reunion will be held on Saturday, March 3, at 2:00 pm in the alumni office. All members are encouraged to attend.

ARMOUR LOSES TO DE KALB TEACHERS BY SINGLE POINT

TechLeads 14-13 Half
Rough Play Feature the Game

ARMOUR HIGH SCORER

Armore Tech, but a heart-burn for the Java Talons as well. Don’t by one of the players, De Kalb 14-13 on Thursday at 3:30. The 14-13 result made the Tech Teachers a very close game for the whole afternoon. The Tech Teachers had been leading the game since the first half, but De Kalb took over in the second half and finally won by one point. The Tech Teachers, with a balanced team, scored in various ways to try to catch up, but De Kalb’s defense was strong.
