Electrical Plan Regular Meetings

The Armour Branch of the A. I. E. E. E. held a banquet meeting last Friday, February 19, in the Physical Science Room.

An appreciation for the work of George Nair and his program committee was voiced by the organization as the part of the banquet. The committee then presented a plan which advanced the promotion of electrical between.

The suggestion now appears, in a program of this nature to be stored.

The chairmen of the entertainment committee also gave an announcement concerning the installation of the telephone equipment for the banquet, which will be installed later.

It is decided to have a meeting in March where the arrangements for the banquet will be made.

The meeting was adjourned.

Questions—Would you like to see more heating matches presented at Armour?

W. L. Llewellyn, A.M., '37—"Armour might be interested in this activity but we need more. The difficulty in uniting the match lies in the piece of ammunition. The match at the Bullseye Club and the one at the South Chicago A.M. were so distant to us that they didn't attract different to get to. Let's have more matches at Armour.

Paul Innes, B.S., '32—There is no other form of competition that requires a greater feeling of good fellowship than boating. This form not only applies to competitions but to the operators as well. Anyone who has observed the absolute lack of camaraderie at a boxing match will appreciate this. That is why you see better matches at A. J. Hill's, Racine, C. S. '31. Although boating is supposed to be part of the college activities, I believe it is very interesting, with that degree made and would hold better matches because of the men they play.

Carl S. Pfeiffer, B.S.' 31—Boating is the only form of athletics which should be given the pages of the alumni. I see that this has always been to be the same as you who can do your best no matter how you do. It's a great support the school and friends of the school.

TYPING BY WIRE—AN ADVENTURE IN COMMUNICATION

The telephone typewriter, a new Bell System service, has commercial possibilities as yet barely realized.

For example, a business houseman typewriter message over telephone wires, and this is retyped instantaneously and simultaneously in any number of offices. The advantage is obvious in knitting together far-distant organizations and accelerating their operation.

Here is still another extension of telephone service which has already proved its value. The telephone typewriter promises even greater things in industry, discovers new uses for this instrument of convenient communication.
