Furr Hall Fixes Java Hour Date
At 7 p.m. on Wednesday, May 14, the Furr Hall council is sponsoring an all-school coffee hour, to which approximately 150 students have been personally invited. Since it would be a huge task to contact all students, faculty members, and guests of ITT, the council is issuing an open invitation to these people.

According to Warren Gordon, resident of the Freshman dormitory, the coffee hour is being sponsored, not with the idea of petting projects, but with the hope that it will build up confidence and will give the average student an opportunity to meet someone acquainted with their instructors and members of the administration.

The Furr Hall council, under the leadership of John T. Batten, Mr. Raymond J. Spalding, Mr. John T. Batten, and others, has shown interest in favorably replying to their invitations.

Rambling Wrecks Deeply Involved in Spring Fling

Of recent mention were the rowdiness of Georgia Tech. We have proof that certain other rambling wrecks are also found in the south. Yet the WCU doesn't worry for water is all that is present. These guys are members of a ski diving club that specializes in springs. Not for them is a mere lake or ocean; they explore the chambers or caves beneath some of the deep pools in their area.

A typical outing occurred last month when these two wrecks dove into Morrocoy springs in Florida for a visit. Equipped with belts, oxygen with lightweight rubber suits, each man wearing two air tanks removed to 200 psi, a depth gauge, watch, and a strong steel-beam lamp, they descended into the second of three rooms or caves under the surface of the spring. Making the deepest penetration of the day, one continuant worked to a depth of 240 feet.

DZ's Serve Steak, Beans

Closed tighter than a hock-cow! That describes this weekend with respect to frat parties. The I. T. S. A. picnic and the appearance of Odetta are the chief events bringing about this condition.

The young ladies of Delta Zeta and Ruth Ann Avery last Monday. There was an unusual dinner at the DZ house recently which is a custom promoting more serious scholarship among the membership. The affair was called "Steak and Beans Dinner" and the idea was to have a big banquet serving steak to the girls with grade points over the sorority average and beans to those under. The host for this year's campus feast was Louise Dixon. We hear you did a very fine job, Louise, even on the beans.

The Kappa Phi Delts are planning a rummage sale tomorrow, May 1, to make enough cash to pay their rent.

Congratulations to Herb Weil of Alpha Epsilon Phi, who was recently elected IME athlete of the year. The DZ report that "last week's party at Passavant hospital was a success." The Kappa Delta alumni enjoyed their annual beer blur last week. The Phi Kapps' another in coming up next week, and the Phi Kapps report a large turnout for theirs last Friday.

The Phi Kapps, at a special election meeting Monday, April 25, elected and installed the following men to the respective house officers: president, Mel Meyer; veep, Norm Lands, scholarship chairman, Pete Pollock; pledge trainer, Rich Klieg; recording secretary, Dale Madenbank; treasurer, George Bong; kitchen steward, Larry Burns; house manager, Don Gregory; acting secretary, Ed Hudson; mothers' club coordinator, Bob Weeden, and social chairman, Ed Lepel.

The TEPs will have their election of officers May 5, and installation on May 12. Right now Greg is in the spring "I've been looking for!" his home-projects, outdoor picnic and beach party by the men of Theta Xi. This year's venture is set for May 17 in the Indian days.
