Cycle Managers Conduct Contest in Senior Class

Best-Looking Man to Be Chosen by Upper-Classmen

Cast Ballots Today

It has long been a question for debate among the students of Armour, in particular, who among their fellows might be awarded the coveted honor of being considered the best-looking man in the class. Therefore it is the desire and intent of the class of 1932 to put an end to this discussion by determining once and for all which individual has the most ideal features. Any person who has been elected by the higher classes as deserving of the title of best-looking man will be afforded the privilege of selecting his own group of best-looking women. The ballots will be cast on the following day, and the winner will receive a purse of fifteen dollars.
