The Slipstick

The Slipstick is a simple, handheld device that can be used to measure the thickness of a material, such as paper or fabric. It consists of a thin metal strip with a scale on one end and a flat surface on the other. To use the Slipstick, you simply place the flat surface against the material you want to measure and read the thickness from the scale on the opposite end. The Slipstick is particularly useful for measuring materials that are too thin or delicate to be measured with a caliper or other more traditional measuring tools.
