As the quiet campus of JIT began slowly closing up for the day, the sounds of the students and professorsr chatting and munching could be heard drifting out from the dining halls and research buildings. On the steps outside, a few people were still lingering, talking about the day's events or planning for the next. A few others were already preparing to leave, bagging their belongings and checking their watches, ready to head home.

250 From Dorms, Frats Skirmish As The Snow Flies

The snow was still in the early stages of forming a thick layer on the ground. Fresh snow had fallen overnight, making the campus look like a winter wonderland. The students were excited by the prospect of a snow day, but they knew that the day would be short-lived.

Homecoming Week Attractions: Charlie Byrd, Cabaret, Commencement

Homecoming Week continues tonight with the arrival of famous jazz musician Charlie Byrd to the campus. Byrd, known for his smooth and sophisticated style, will perform at 8:00 pm in the Student Center. The event is free and open to the public.

On Sunday, the main event will be the Commencement ceremony. The University of Chicago will confer degrees on over 3,000 students. The ceremony will begin at 9:30 am in the Assembly Hall. President John E. D'Arcy will deliver the commencement address.

WITN: Station in Trouble?

WITN, the public television station on campus, may be facing financial difficulties. The station relies on student contributions and local sponsors for funding, but recent budget cuts have left it struggling to stay afloat.

Ogilvie Pledges More Money

Governor Ogilvie has pledged to provide additional funding for the Illinois Society of Electronic Computers and Networks. The governor said he is committed to supporting the students and faculty of this important research institution.
To Adjourn or Not to Adjourn?

The Association of Tech Students has just trained grant advice on recent proposals which would allocate funds to integrate Technology Minor, and Union Band. Both groups are interested in obtaining the grant and have requested the assistance of the Association in the process. The Association will meet on Thursday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Association House to discuss the proposals and determine the best course of action. The meeting is open to all members of the Association.

Legitimacy In The Chapel

Although the name says it all, the Chapel of the Slam is a rather peculiar institution. The displacement between IT and the Union Band has made the Chapel more of a focal point for some students, and the Chapel has been asked to evaluate its current role and mission. The Chapel is currently being evaluated for its legitimacy, and the results will be presented at the next Student Senate meeting.

ATS Discusses Finances

The Association of Technology Students (ATS) is holding a meeting on Thursday, April 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Association House to discuss the current financial situation of the organization. The meeting is open to all members of the Association.

Basketball, you know, has had its share of upsets. On the L of Illinois by one point. On the L of Illinois in the CIC tournament. You name it. It's basketball.

The ITT-Women's Conference was held in Chicago this week.

The Tech women lost by one point. Their record now stands at 12-12. The Tech women were last in the conference.

Time to reassess Athletic Programs

by Harry Joseph

Many, many are the times, I have heard the question asked: "Why do we even have athletic programs?"

The question is not new. In fact, it has been asked before. But, the question is one that needs to be asked.

The purpose of the question is to understand why we, as a nation, continue to spend money on sports.

The answer is found in the benefits that come from participating in sports.

Sports provide opportunities for personal growth and development. They teach valuable life lessons, such as teamwork, perseverance, and discipline.

In addition, sports can have a positive impact on mental health.

Sports also provide a sense of community and belonging. They bring people together and create a sense of camaraderie.

Finally, sports can have a positive impact on physical health.

In conclusion, the question of why we have athletic programs is not a new one. The answer lies in the benefits that come from participating in sports. So, let us continue to support our athletic programs.
