Students Face Delays in Federal Aid

by Richard Anderson

The controversial Walker-Bush delay in the federal aid process by the Bush administration has been met with a mixed reaction from educators and students. Walker said that he would rather give the students federal aid at the end of the year, but Bush administration officials have suggested that the delay is necessary to ensure that the budget is balanced.

The delay has caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education. The delay has also caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.

The delay has been met with mixed reactions among educators and students. Some educators believe that the delay will allow for a more thorough review of the budget, while others believe that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states.

The delay has caused concern among federal officials, who worry that the delay will result in a loss of federal aid for the states. The delay has also caused frustration among educators and students, who believe that the budget cuts are unfair and will have a negative impact on the quality of education.
ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Student Association
The farewell game for this month will be held on Saturday, April 15. Seniors and Juniors please contact coach Pete "Ma" Matar. Yung "Slyy" and "Frenzy" please contact coach Albert "Hambo" Mark. Good luck this season. Get some time in the gym.

Attention Financial Aid Applicants
David House, Director of Financial Aid, will conduct meetings to discuss the financial aid process for the next academic year. These meetings will be held on the following dates: March 19, Analysis of Linear Circuits (Senior); April 3, Analysis of Linear Circuits, April 5, Analysis of Non-Linear Circuits, and April 12, Program Debugging and Problem Solving.

All programs will be in Bell Hall Auditorium from 12:00 to 1:30 in the dates mentioned.

Summer Research
Three students, preferably seniors or junior chemistry majors, are needed to serve as participants in an NRC-sponsored Student Originated Studies project dealing with signal processing and biochemistry. Pay for the 12 week period is $26 per week. Interested students should contact Chuck Haas, project director, at 2410, 2417, or 2317, or leave their name in the Chemistry Department office.

The Common Student
The Association of Tech Students was instituted a few years ago to get rid of a form of student government that many felt was both dishonest and nonrepresentative. ITSA was abolished to give the "common student" a voice in campus affairs. Apparently the "common student" was a little too realistic for taste last Thursday, however, he wanted to spend a leisurely lunch hour, or perhaps he had to study for a big mid-term. Whatever the excuse was he did not attend the last ATS meeting. Over one-half of the self-appointed student leaders could not find it in themselves to be present for roll call. A quorum was not reached.

President Chuck Haas resigned the troubled institution from calling the roll and instead filled the meeting with as many reports as he could think of hoping that the other thirteen assembly members would enter the room.

Rules Committee dropped as many more versions of what really happened with the Michael Burne-Triangle fraternity Blood Drive failure. Casual discussions followed with nothing new being mentioned. A proxy for Bob Foertock, ATS representative in UI, gave a summary of what happened in UI since the last report, when status was to be reviewed by the authors of the answers.

DON'T BE LEFT IN THE COLD
Why not spend your spring break in an exciting place like Acapulco. Mexico. Visit London, Hawaii, International. The Student Teacher travel group has weekly travel programs beginning March 15 in all those places. "The Places" We've glad you asked. From only $10 in space is limited. Call or write for our complete list of travel programs. 212 792 2345.

GODSPELL
The Gospel According to Today

Read
The Rag

Godspell
A Lansbury/Sugden/Bernh Production from Columbia

Midwest Premiere
Wednesday, April 11

The ticket price includes the show and the meal.
THE OFFICIAL DEAN GEBHART'S BIG TOE
LOOK A LIKE CONTEST

The grooves of a record. So you thought we had come up with something really exotic didn’t you? Last week’s Big Toe Look Alike didn’t look much like a big toe, but it apparently wasn’t as difficult as previous weeks’ puzzles have been. William Delamont was the first correct guesser, although he did not identify what specific record the grooves were from. Even so, his answer is worth the fine.

The best wrong answer prize goes to Paul Jacob for “A magnified view of the tear-stained pencil markings of a Tech student’s final.” A little early in the year for that kind of commentary, isn’t it, Paul? Ah well, on to the business at hand.

Golf

Continued from page 4

University, Illinois College, and Roswell University in the I-00 match. Two days later, the same shifts to Silver Lake, an ITT tour off against Chicago State University, DePaul, and University of Chicago. ITT qualify in the top golf teams in the area, and is shooting for its usual time showing.

RESEARCH MATERIALS
ALL TOPICS

Write or call for your up-to-date materials catalog of thousands of outstanding research papers. Exclusively $1.00 per package and handling.

WE ALSO DO CUSTOM MADE RESEARCH

COLLEGIATE RESEARCH

1430 Wabash Avenue, Suite 47

Marina, Rhode Island 02910

We Need A Local Agent!

MIXER!

SAT., MARCH 31ST.
FROM 8 TO 11:30 P.M.
HUB BALLROOM

ADMISSION: $0.75

FEATURING:

"SHADES"

SOFT DRINKS WILL BE AVAILABLE
Keglers Roll Over NIU; Near MBC Pennant

By Harvey Schulte

The NIU team was on the ropes as the Hawk defense, led by senior linebacker George Glokie, took over in the fourth quarter. Glokie's performance was vital in ensuring the victory and keeping NIU's hopes of a comeback alive.

If Keglers are able to continue their strong defense, they will be in a good position to secure the MBC pennant. With the current standings, Keglers have a solid chance of finishing at the top of the conference.

Sharp Netters Open Today

By Harvey Schulte

The Sharp Netters are looking forward to the upcoming season, eager to put in their best efforts and aim for a top spot in the league. With their strong team and dedicated players, they will be a force to reckon with.

Pillsockers Drop Openers

By Harvey Schulte

The Pillsockers faced tough competition in their opening games, but their strong defense and solid offense helped them secure victories. The team is looking forward to the rest of the season, with high hopes for success.

Rutbahs get in shape

The Rutbahs are working hard to improve their fitness and prepare for the upcoming season. With their dedication to training, they are on the right track to achieve their goals.

Strikers tee off

The Strikers are gearing up for their upcoming season, with high hopes and a strong lineup. Their focus is on teamwork and improving their skills, aiming to achieve success in the upcoming tournaments.

Vets Loom as Golf Base

By Harvey Schulte

The Vets are a formidable team, and their presence on the golf course adds depth to the competition. They will be a tough opponent for any team that faces them.

SPORTS BRIEFS

MBARI-1 SWEEPS TO CROWN

MBARI-1 swept the competition, securing their victory with a convincing score. With their impressive performance, they claimed the championship title, leaving the other teams in their wake.

INTRAMURALIS, IFC

The Intramural and Interfraternity Council Sports have moved into their spring schedules. Rich Swanson's IFC program features softball, baseball, soccer, and lacrosse. Meanwhile, the Intramural Sports Program is offering track, field hockey, and tennis. The intramural programs are designed to promote physical activity and camaraderie among students.

SPORTS AWARDS DINNER SET

The IIT Athletic Director Ed Glancy has announced that the Sports Awards Dinner will be held at the Hotel Pennsylvania on April 23rd. The event will feature a variety of activities, including recognition of outstanding athletes and teams.

The NIU match was indicative of ITT's team play. Despite hitting with solid force, the Hawks were able to keep the game tight, making it difficult for the opposing team to score. With their strong defense and consistent performance, the Hawks are on the right track to secure their title.