The Campus: Police:
They Need Your Help
To Do Their Job.

by G. C. Steinhil

Barb Freeman is the head RA in women's hall, GTR. Last Monday she woke up in the early afternoon and stumbled from her bedroom into the adjoining office. As she opened the door she was confronted by a seventeen-year-old black boy who appeared to be under the influence of drugs. An incident like this usually raises questions about why the campus police aren't present.

Police patrol the campus more frequently. How did this intruder manage to slip into women's hall unnoticed? Did the thieves lock the door and leave the front room before the police arrived?

The police say that the incident is under investigation, but they have no information about the intruder.

ATS: No Action

The ATS assembly appeared to have a good time last week. The meeting was held in the Great Hall on Tuesday, May 3rd. The event was attended by about 200 people. The meeting was well attended and the atmosphere was lively. The attendees were engaged in discussions and debates. The meeting ended with a vote to support the president's budget recommendations.

ATS Treasurer, Joseph E. Johnson, clarifies a point of order during the meeting.

Alumni Award Nominations Made

by J. F. Corbin

Each semester the IIT Alumni Association presents recognition awards for academic achievements and outstanding contributions to the university. These awards are made in four categories: engineering, science, humanities, and business.

Robert G. Walsh is chairman of the awards committee. The committee's task is to select the winners of the awards and to present them at the annual alumni reception in December.

The awards are presented to students who have shown outstanding scholarship and achievement.

The awards will be presented at the annual alumni dinner on April 30th.

Haas Claims Intimidation; CB Secretary, Comp. Cpa

Takes Pay Cut

Tech News columnist C. J. Picha has filed a complaint of administrative intimidation with the Communications Board at its meeting Tuesday. Haas brought the complaint on the grounds that he has been intimidated by a member of the Communications Board. The complaint alleges that the member of the Communications Board has threatened to block Picha's access to the newspaper if he continues to publish critical articles.

The Communications Board met Tuesday to discuss the complaint. The board voted to investigate the allegations and to take appropriate action.

There's nothing the campus police can do about it.

Ms. Freeman claims that if there is a security problem in women's dorms, this is it. All the patrolling and security locks in the world won't help if the residences are irresponsible enough to let anyone in without so much as questioning who they are there to see.

The black intruder seemed to be ambushed. Ms. Freeman lived in room 501, the one next to her office. She opened the door to the room and discovered him inside. He ran; she ran. She got away, he didn't. She tried to chase him but he was too fast.

Swanson Ends
First Season

This was a starting experience for the men, and it was a surprise this season. So many freshmen are returning this year. The first year Swanson played, there were only two returning freshmen. And the problems that are now facing the现 men's basketball team. The season begins at 8 p.m. today in the gym, and there is a 700-minute limit.

Byrd Impressions

by Alex Brine

Some months ago I attended my first HUB concert. There were two groups featured, "Snail's Pace" and "Bambekee." After attending that concert I came to the following two conclusions: 1) The people who plan and implement the HUB's concerts did not do very much planning, and 2) The average HUB student is a technically accomplished musician with little interest in social functions.

These conclusions may or may not be fair. But the fact remains that the most entertaining feature of that concert was watching Rich Noble dance with his buddies. This group in fact, accounted for 90 per cent of the audience.

Next Sunday's matinee will be in the heart. When the heartbreak hits on long street, when the heartbreak hits on long street, when the heartbreak hits on long street, when the heartbreak hits on long street, when the heartbreak hits on long street, you can be sure that there's no one in the world who will do more.

You've Got 17 Chances to Pass Up a Free Offer.

If you're heading south this Easter break, be sure to visit some of the 17 Marathon dealers along Route 175, 120, and 39. From Corbin, Kentucky to Tampa, Florida. They'll be waiting for you.

You can drink, free.

You don't have to buy a thing. And you don't have to be driving. But if you are, you'll be going to need gasoline. And if you fill up at Marathon, you can hang onto your spending money, because we accept all of these: Balm-A-Mercado, Monte Carlo, Master Charge, American Express Diner's Club, and, of course, our own credit card.

To stop in and fill up.

Even if you don't need gas.

Bowlers Romp 11-0; Lead Mibc By 6

Bowing up their best shots in the S.A.S.C./I.T.S. league, the University Bowlers had little trouble disposing of their opponents in their Wednesday night meet. The Bowlers scored 11-0 against Southwestern and 6-0 over Our Lady's University in a mid-week competition.

WINTER SPORTS RECAP

Wrestling

A.J. Oates, Barbara Stewart's twin sister, won her match against teammate, Maria Oates in the 140 lb. division. Barbara won by a pinfall in the second round, adding to her already impressive record. She advanced to the second round of the tournament and is currently ranked third in the state.

Swimming

The University Swim team continued their winning streak with a dominant victory over Southwestern University. Coach Smith was pleased with the team's performance, especially in the breaststroke events.

Hockey

The hockey team showed significant improvement in their recent match against Southwestern. Although they were outplayed in the first period, they rallied back in the second half to secure a 3-2 victory. Coach Smith attributed their success to better teamwork and improved defense.

SPORTS BRIEFS

All three winter sports teams are currently preparing for their upcoming tournaments. The swim team is focusing on conditioning while the hockey team is working on their strengths. The wrestling team is preparing for their championship match. All teams are in high spirits and looking forward to the challenges ahead.

Pillockers Work Out

The Pillockers, under the guidance of Coach Smith, are working hard to improve their skills. They are currently preparing for their next match against Southwestern University, which is set for next weekend. The team is looking forward to the competition and hopes to gain valuable experience.
